MEETING LIVE STREAM SERVICE INTERRUPTIONS

Johnson County, Iowa – Individuals who listen to or view live streaming of the Board of Supervisors' meetings through the County's www.johnsoncountyia.igm2.com portal may have recently experienced periodic service interruptions or the temporary inability to access meeting recordings.

The functionality issues, caused by a recent software update by the vendor, are expected to be resolved by early October. Until then, there may be ongoing technical issues with accessing recordings and/or live streaming. Back-up recordings, however, are available. If an individual needs a recording immediately, he or she may contact the Johnson County Auditor's Office at 319-356-6004.

IQM2 is an innovative Cloud-based meeting management software used by municipalities throughout the U.S. The portal provides citizens easy access to agendas, agenda packets and meeting minutes, as well as live and on-demand mobile-friendly video and audio streaming.
